DAWES DRAFTED IN NAVY CRISIS

London, March 17 (AP)—Secretary of State Blenheim today enlisted the assistance of Ambassador Dawes in dealing with the French situation at the naval conference.

Dawes will join with Dwight W. Morrow in working with their chief on this delicate and difficult problem on solution of which hangs the ultimate outcome of the naval conference.

Ambassador Dawes is an old friend of the French premier, having made a close acquaintance with Tardieu during the war.

The calling in of Ambassador Dawes was made known after a conference between the Secretary Blenheim and Premier Tardieu just before the latter departed for Paris.

It was said in American conference circles the French premier told the American secretary about yesterday's conference at Chequers between himself and Prime Minister MacDonald.

It was added that Premier Tardieu seemed optimistic.

Britain Claims She Has Cut Navy Most Since War

London, March 17 (AP)—A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, today told Commons today that no other naval power had made such large naval reductions, compared with pre-war figures, as had Great Britain.

In introducing the naval estimates, Mr. Alexander pointed to the reduction of more than £100,000,000 from last year's figures, and added that this economy had been achieved despite the necessity for meeting unavoidable new commitments for £1,000,000.

Mr. Mahan, a farmer, was the principal recipient of the estate. The will is contested by Postmaster Alfred J. Perkins of Atlantic City, a first cousin, who charges forgery.

WILKINS HEARS NEW YORK

By CAPT. SIR HUBERT WILKINS, Commander of the Heart-Willkins Antarctic Expedition. (Copyright, 1930, by the New York, Associated Press and Universal Service.)

S. S. Eastern Prince, March 17.—We are now rapidly approaching New York, which we expect to reach some time Wednesday morning.

With us we are bringing our scientific records, the films and photographs we took while in the Antarctic and such equipment as we might be able to use in any submarine trip to that region.

The white waves greet us as we are now passing remind us of the ice packs among which we spent so many weeks in Antarctica.

Porter, Cramer and Cheesman, my aides, who lost so much weight due to the constant tossing of the boat in which we made our dash into the polar regions, are regaining their weight amidst our present luxurious surroundings.

We are all tremendously happy at the prospect of soon setting foot upon American soil.

Plaintiff's Bank Book Seized in Coat

A 65-year-old Vermont farmer, with his bank book tightly sewed in the lining of his coat, today told Judge Adlow in the municipal court of how he was robbed of $10 by two men with whom he had bailed.

Frank Praks of Brooklyn, N. Y., was identified by Rogers Kilby of Barre, Vt., as one of two men who had assaulted him a week ago and taken the money from him. Praks was held under $3,000 for grand jury action.

Nightly Reading for 11 Years Fails to Hold Hobby

Brockton, March 17.—For 11 years Mrs. Augusta E. Cleaver, 25, of Hingham, read every night to her husband—then he vanished and never came back, she testified today in Probate Court, where she seeks a divorce from Charles L. Crocker.

Mrs. Cleaver told the court that they were married 15 years ago when she was 10 and he was 16.

She charges desertion and asks permission to resume the name Brewer, that of her previous husband.

BARRON, 'LOST' BROKER, BACK

Asbury Park, N. J., March 17 (AP)—Samuel Barron, New York real estate broker, who was kidnaped near his home in Interlaken, Wednesday, returned today.

He went to bed immediately on arriving home and his physician hurried to examine him. Detectives postponed their questioning until after the examination.

Barron said he had been "dumped out" of an automobile near Princeton.

DOHENY'S WIFE PLEADS FOR HIM

Washington, March 17 (AP)—Mrs. Carrie Estelle Doheny, wife of Edward L. Doheny, today took the stand in her husband's trial on charges of bribery, to tell of the loan of $100,000 Doheny made to Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the Interior, in November, 1921.

Mrs. Doheny told of seeing a promissory note bearing Fall's name.

She said the signature was torn from the Fall note by her husband just before they departed from New York for Los Angeles. She said Doheny told her it was a demand note, and if anything happened to it, it would leave Fall in a desperate position if their associate insisted on payment. He explained, she said, that by tearing off the signature Fall would be safe until able to pay.

She told of putting the note in a safe deposit box and added it was misplaced and not found until after Doheny had testified before the Senate oil committee. She produced the signature and identified the remainder of the note.

Defense counsel also introduced four ministers who testified to Doheny's "high character," and other witnesses through whom it was attempted to prove responsibility for the leasing of the Elk Hills oil reserve lay with the navy department and not with Fall.

Providence, March 17.—Ousted by court order from "The Birchies," where she went as a bride 27 years ago, Mrs. Alice T. Smith today began a new life in a small apartment in Benefit st., near Waterman st.

Mrs. Smith was a divorcee from Arthur L. Smith, former president of the State Senate, but a few weeks ago the Supreme Court sustained a ruling of Superior Judge G. Frederick Frost ordering her from "The Birchies," on the ground her former husband was no longer able to maintain it. He also cut her allowance from $60 a week to $25 a week.

FRANCE PLANS NEW U. S. TAX

Washington, March 17 (INR)—Invoking a long unused law, the French Government is preparing to lay an additional tax of 18 per cent on American business arising at that country, in what might be interpreted as a move to let the United States pay the French war debt.

State and Treasury officials probably will send a representative to Paris to talk the situation over, holding eventually to a reciprocal treaty, it was learned today.

Already France levies a 15 per cent tax on the profits of subsidiaries of American corporations in that country and an 18 per cent tax on dividends declared to the parent company.

It is proposed to apply a so-called extraterritorial tax which would levy an 18 per cent assessment against that part of the profits of American parent corporations which accrues from the French subsidiary.

Broadway Blondes in $400,000 Balm Battle

New York, March 17.—The battle of Broadway blondes for $400,000 will begin this morning at May's Landing, N. J.

The blonde contestants are Mrs. Edna Leeson Decker and Mrs. Doris K. Endor, two lovely ex-managers of what they call "the blonde contest."

The $400,000 is the prize Mrs. Endor puts on the affection of her former husband, Chuck Endor, club entertainer, actor and night club entertainer.

Those affections, she alleges, were alienated by Mrs. Decker in 1928. In 1928 Mrs. Decker was commander of the "Police." Two years later she married Dozier, a millionaire.

Historians Assailed for Ignoring Early Irish-Americans

The South Boston Citizens Association, meeting in the Broadway Theater, South Boston, heard William H. McSweeney denounce Palfrey and Fiske, historians of colonial New England, for their failure to mention early settlers from the Emerald Isle, whose efforts did so much to build up and make vigorous the institutions of this section. McSweeney cited requests of Cotton Mather and others for immigration from Ireland and noted a number of 17th-century settlers from the southern part of the present Free State as well as from Ulster. The latter, he said, never called themselves Scotch-Irish. They were content with being Irish pure and simple, he added.

SAYS HISTORIES IGNORE IRISH

Irish settlers in the Massachusetts Bay Colony and throughout New England have been deliberately disregarded by historians, William H. McSweeney of Salem declared in Broadway Theater at the exercises commemorating the 150th anniversary of the evacuation of Boston by British troops. He said: "The early port arrivals of Boston, 1713 to 1762, show nearly 1000 Irish passengers, and from 1763 to 1787, nearly 3000 Irish passengers, admitted as inhabitants, and the list embraces names of some of the most prominent families of Irish nomenclature, and indicates they came from all parts of that country."

"The public records of Newbury, Amesbury, Haverhill and Newburyport, and in the border towns of New Hampshire and Maine, and then part of Massachusetts, in the land records, may be found ample proof of their strength long before the meeting of the Continental Congress."

He cited passages from well-known histories to the effect that the Colonists were purely English and

Irish Unitarians in Tributes to Taft and Eliot

Belfast, Northern Ireland, March 17 (AP)—Three Belfast Unitarian churches paid tribute yesterday to two members of that faith who achieved distinction in the United States.

The following resolution was carried in each church:

"We return thanks to God for that faith which in the past generation has given to American life two figures of such rare quality and wide influence for highest ideals as Chief Justice Taft and former President Eliot of Harvard University."

Then contradicted them with references from historic records. "The Puritans made New England what it was, he said, 'They were big men of spirit and courage of their rights. And they kept a sense of exclusiveness.' 'Irish colonists and their part in the revolution has been omitted by New England writers, he charged."

BRIDE IS HELD AS BURGLAR

Worcester, March 15—Accused of being her husband's accomplice in at least five burglaries, Mrs. William T. Rainford, 31 years old and a bride of two months, turned on her husband at police headquarters today and described him as being "silly" and "worthless."

Rainford was arrested near his Rochdale home by Leicester policemen. His wife's arrest followed. The burglaries for which they are being held occurred in Rochdale, Leicester and Auburn.

A declaration by police that each had blamed the other for the burglaries led husband and wife to turn upon each other. Mrs. Rainford, according to police, asserted that she only acted as "lookout" while Rainford committed the burglaries. She added that she accompanied him on the burglary trip because she wanted to be sure he "brought home something to eat."

Husband and wife were arrested on court today.

President Confident of 1930 Prosperity

By MERVILLE STANLEY RUBEYER
(Written Immediately Following a Talk with President Hoover at the White House of More Than One Hour's Duration.)

Washington, March 17—President Hoover is confident that business is on the upgrade. He feels that the rate of improvement has been far more rapid than in comparable cycles in the past. He regards the immediate present as three o'clock in the morning in the business situation—the darkness just before the dawn that comes with spring.

The President continues to watch details of the business situation with hawklike attention. Unquestionably the emotional up and down of the market, which followed the stock market collapse, have long since been dissipated and business opinion has been turned in perspective so to how much prosperity the country will have during the remainder of the year.

SEES JOBS AHEAD

During the next 60 days, after which the President expects unemployment to be relieved, he is planning for consumers and business men conservatively to do necessary improvements which in the normal course would be performed sometime during the next 18 months. Moreover the President would like to see prospective home builders take advantage of the increased efficiency of labor through part-time employment to proceed now to build individual homes.

As for unemployment, the President feels that cyclical unemployment will be corrected in 60 days by economic factors already in sight. One more persistent problem of technological unemployment, the turning of men out work by machines which replace them, does severe acute attention, the executive believes. He thinks prospects for shorter work weeks deserve careful study. In the long run, he believes, the country must choose between more leisure or more goods.

It was learned at the White House that the President is especially pleased with the manner in which business executives and labor leaders have fulfilled the pledges made during the November conference with the executive.

The character of recent construction activities, it is felt, has been radically improved. The public utilities, including the railroads, have not only avoided retrenchment in their expansion programs, but have set new high records in the first of the year in construction activities.

The President sees evidence in the performance of the promises to meet up to the end of the year work-to-build bridges now instead of a year from now. In the capacity business now being handled by the railroad equipment and electrical equipment and machinery companies. Statistics show that public works and public utility construction since the beginning of the year

California is on Way to Greatest Prosperity

San Francisco, March 17—Among the first sections of the country to emerge from the general economic depression, San Francisco and California are forging ahead toward an unprecedented prosperity. This was reported at the bi-monthly meeting in the William Taylor Hotel of the Central Coast Council of the nine counties that radiate from San Francisco.

The following facts to illustrate the soundness of the local economic situation were submitted by Norman H. Sloan, general manager of the Chamber of Commerce. San Francisco was the second largest city in America—next to New York—in subscriptions to the new issue of U. S. Treasury certificates.

The district subscribed $161,670, out of a total of $229,980,000. New York subscribed $613,192,300. Savings accounts are gaining in California faster than elsewhere. Telephone, gas and electric companies are busy installing new equipment. Recent rains have put both crops and small ranchers in a happy frame of mind. Crops are reported far ahead of last year.

It is expected that this bill will stand in the names of two Conservatives and three Liberals and propose to strike out a provision giving district committees the power to fix minimum prices for coal in a given district with penalties for those owners who sell cheaper.

If the Liberals vote solidly for this amendment there is a possibility of the government being defeated. The Liberals' attitude, however, is described as uncertain and if a similar number vote with the government or abstain from voting, they did on quota division, there will be a loophole for the government. The matter will be decided at a party meeting tomorrow.

WIT ON-SLATING EVIDENCE DUG FROM GRAVES

Buffalo, N. Y., March 17 (AP)—Authorities today are linking evidence of witchcraft, unearthed in graves of Indians on the Cattaraugus reservation, with murder of Mrs. Henri Marchand, wife of a Buffalo artist.

Articles found in the graves bore testimony to the drafting of the spirits of three powerful Indians to assist in ending Mr. Marchand's life.

A squad who accompanied the searchers said Nancy Bowen brought the aid of the warlocks in her plot against the mild little woman beaten to death with a hammer in her own home.

Nancy is the aged nurse who, with Lila Jimsen, a younger woman of the reservation, now is in jail awaiting trial on a charge of first degree murder.

In the grave of each warrior, dead for many years, were found food for the journey the spirits would have to make to do the "white witch" to death, a bottle of whiskey to give drink to the departed spirit on his tragic errand and an effigy of Mrs. Marchand.

In each case the effigy was a small doll of cloth or wood or cut from paper. One paper doll had been cut from a letter sent to Lila Jimsen.

The handwriting was similar to that of the death victim's husband, Henri Marchand, who is held in jail in $20,000 as a witness.

Anna Jimsen, father of the accused Lila, did the digging in defiance of pagan belief that those who tamper with the resting places of the dead soon will come to an untimely end. Jimsen wanted the spirits to seek evidence that might aid his daughter.

Another bit of evidence turned up by a team led by the wife of a Buffalo lawyer, who is the wife of the Indian homestead on the reservation, is a letter written to Lila by Marchand in which he referred to his "real love." This was penned last May while Marchand was on a trip to Germany. Lila says this letter is proof that her love for the white man was not unrequited.

HOSPITAL BARS "BULL FIGHTER"

Madrid, March 15 (AP)—Tossed by a black bull with big sharp horns, Sydney Franklin, Brooklyn bull fighter, today was in a hospital seriously injured.

As he whirled his red cape before the enraged beast's eyes, Franklin turned his back on the bull which impaled him and then buried him about the bull ring for several minutes.

Dr. Crespo, Franklin's physician, predicted he would live, but said it would take him 40 days to recover. As Franklin is not a member of the Bull Fighters' Cooperative Association he must spend his convalescence in an ordinary hospital instead of the specially equipped institution the toreros maintain.

Franklin spent a restless night, but his physicians continued to express hope that he would recover. Although his injuries are of a most disfiguring and serious nature, his doctors said if he lived it was hardly possible he would be able to fight again.

GIRLS' DEATH DUEL OVER MAN

Camden, S. C., March 17 (AP)—Lottie Villipigue, 19, stabbed Bessie Robinson, 16-year-old Black Hill girl, to death here last night in what friends said was a quarrel over the affections of Cleo Greig, 25.

Miss Villipigue is held in jail here. Formal charges have not been lodged against her pending an inquiry. Nannie T. Elliott, 18, and her brother, Robert Elliott, live also as material witnesses.

Want to Look Young?

The secret of looking young is to put young—so to this you must wash your face and bowels. There's no need of having a yellow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a lousy look in your face—dull eyes with no luster. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and skin.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound as a substitute for colonic to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are put in their colored seal always before they are given to the patient. They help bring back that natural beauty which is lost by neglecting the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color, 35c. per box.

'JAKEY' CASES TO BE PROBED

Washington, March 17 (AP)—Prohibition administrators of several states today were asked by Prohibition Commissioner Dorian to obtain samples of the Jamaica ginger, which is reported to have caused paralysis in southern states.

An investigation of the paralysis cases also was ordered by Dorian to determine whether the situation was caused by action by the prohibition bureau.

Jamaica ginger, Dorian said, normally was made with pure alcohol containing no denaturants. The paralysis affliction could be caused easily by drinking an alcohol known as topography, used at times as a flavoring.

BLACK-HANDER IS SLAIN BY HIS VICTIM

Chicago, March 17 (AP)—In little more than an hour, the Black Hand mob preyed on Daniel Fidenzi for 10 years. They bombed his home and from his fear gleaned their tributes.

Then the extortionists demanded $2000 and when Dominick Meffi, one of the alleged Black Handers, was found slain John Fidenzi, Daniel's son, told the police his father, instead of paying, sent three bullets into Meffi's head.

The extortionists are all rats. Lieut. Norton said. "It's too bad more of the people they prey upon haven't the backbone to do what this old man did."

Recently half a block from her home, the body of Mrs. Ida M. Doyle, 61-year-old Republican election judge, was found in an alley, the skull crushed by heavy blows.

A purse containing a few dollars was missing. A gold band wedding ring, torn from her finger, was found in a nearby yard.

Several hours later, the body of John (the Bullfinch) Fido, gangster and racketeer, was found floating in the North Branch of the Chicago river. Wrapped in a blanket and trussed up with wire—a prayerbook and a rosary in a coat pocket and the hands mockingly folded as in prayer—Fido's body showed traces of torture, stabbing and a beating.

Until recently "The Bullfinch" was chauffeur and bodyguard for Ted Newberry, North Side ally of George (Boss) Moran, bitter foe of "Scarface Al" Capone.

Fido's death was seen as another episode in the battle between Moran and Capone for control of the Chicago trade, resulting in the bombing of the Club Algonquin several weeks ago.

Early today three men, two of whom armed with sawed-off shotguns, attacked the general manager of the Chicago Motor Coach Company and fled with $7500, part of Sunday's take.

"Beware to Godless!" is the motto of the Chicago mob. You will find scores of opportunities for profit in the Chicago mob.

"Daddy" Still Prefers Blondes, but Age Limit Is Up

New York, March 17—Blondes, but of an older variety, are still the preference of Edward W. "Daddy" Browning.

He has boosted the age limit on that qualifying Candelaria must attain to more than two score.

Ignoring the young women who crowded around him at a dance at the Plaza, Browning announced he would give a prize to the most beautiful woman over 20 years old. More than 30 women in the group of several hundred dancers decided the prize might be worth the telling and lined up for inspection.

A slim, petite blonde, whose luscious black velvet gown smartly set off her golden hair, was "Daddy's" choice. He gave her a large bouquet of flowers with long blonde curls. He had several other dolls with him but he didn't offer to give them away.

LOW INTEREST TO AID BOOM, LAMONT SAYS

Washington, March 17 (AP)—Secretary Lamont said today that the lower interest rates on money throughout the country should permit an important speeding up during the next few months in new construction which he said already had been stimulated by the "remarkable cooperation" from the various states.

The commerce secretary asserted the high interest rates during the past year had been one of the major factors in slowing down construction and added that while the rate had dropped in New York the easier money conditions have not yet reached throughout the country.

This condition could not be worked out in 24 hours, Mr. Lamont said, but the situation is gradually improving and construction during the spring should be greatly aided by the easier money.

The secretary pointed out that the states and governors have been pushing public construction and have been aided by the government wherever possible.

The state of Ohio was cited as one of the states which has gone farthest in its efforts to offset the depression following the stock market crash. Ohio, he said, has approximately $10,000,000 in road contracts since December, during a period when road construction activity is at a standstill in that section.

CHANCE FOR MAT TITLE

THE outstanding sporting attraction of the week in this city will be staged Thursday night in the arena, when Dynamite Sam Sonnenberg, a heavy weight wrestling champion of the world, defends his title and $10,000 diamond studded belt against Dan, who has defeated French heavyweight champion.

The match will be the first wrestling bout of international import since the younger Sam Sonnenberg, in many years, and will draw the largest crowd ever seen at the arena. The match here this season.

Dynamite Sam Sonnenberg's decline is the most formidable challenge yet produced to face Gus Zerkow, a younger man than Sonnenberg, faster and more experienced wrestler than Sonnenberg than Joe Malczewicz. He does as well as anyone else in the world as a well-founded knowledge rather on the art of wrestling.

The art of wrestling and juggling and handling on a farm in Poland was taught by his father. While he was young, Sonnenberg announced that he would not take his proposed trip to Australia until next summer. The square-jawed, hard-chitting little champion is besieged with offers from all parts of the United States and Canada.

The semitotal bout, between Joe Maloney, Utica Panther, and Count Zarynoff, widely popular Russian star, is attracting almost as much attention as the main bout.

INSPECTOR ELLIOTT'S MIGHT OF MYSTERY ATTACK

WOUNDED SENDS SLEUTH TO HOSPITAL

Beaten When He Goes to Investigate Disturbance in a Dorchester Home

Police officials learned today for the first time that Inspector Henry Elliott was at City Hospital, victim of a mysterious attack which occurred late Saturday night as he was on his way to his home on Torrey st., Mattapan.

A squad of inspectors headed by Capt. Gustafson was immediately sent out to investigate and round up those responsible for the attack.

Inspector Elliott has often figured in the arrest of gangsters and is credited with having smashed one of the toughest gangs in the city because of the old Castle st. district.

The first word police headquarters had of the affair was when Elliott was telephoned today that his husband was at the hospital with a possible fracture of the skull and other injuries.

Inquiry revealed that he had been disturbed in a house on Dorchester while on his way home Saturday night and decided to investigate. As soon as he stepped in the door he was knocked unconscious by a blow.

Upon recovering consciousness at a local hospital, Elliott was taken home. Later his wife took him to the hospital in another cab.

While a patrolman in the South End, Elliott was several times set upon by gangs whose members he had arrested.

208-YEAR-OLD SERMON READ

A form of worship in vogue in the parish 200 years ago was followed by the parishioners of the First Parish church, in Boston, on Sunday.

The minister, Rev. Kenneth Cheney, delivered a 208-year-old sermon, taken from the archives which afforded the congregation a striking contrast in sermons of that era and now.

The minister's text for the service was taken from the 21st verse of the 10th chapter of Hebrews. "It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God."

The service was further enlivened by a collection for the relief of the Russian famine, and a collection for the support of the Red Cross.

At the close of the service, the minister read a list of names of those who had given to the support of the Red Cross.

LOST 'BABY' IN GREAT WAR

Mothers were the "second line of defense" in the World War, as in all wars. Now the Government is going to find out how the mothers of the lost boys of the war are getting on.

The Gold Star Mothers of America, the only organization of mothers of sons who have died in the war, is now making a survey of the mothers of the lost boys of the war.

HARVARD STAR GAZERS STUDY NEW PLANET

Experts Say Latest Find in Sky Is Much Larger Than Earth

Harvard astronomers are studying mathematical and photographic data regarding the new planet recently discovered from the Lowell Observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz.

The existence of this ninth of the group of heavenly planets revolving around the sun has been suspected for 25 years. Marked deviations from the supposedly regular course of Neptune led observers to believe another and more distant body was influencing Neptune's movements.

Today such work of another planet is available, according to scientists working at the observatory. The light vibrations from this body have been photographed.

SEE FROM THE EARTH
An idea of the size of this unnamed giant of the skies may be gained from a comparison with the earth, which is 8,000 miles thick at the equator. Neptune is believed to be 32,000 miles thick and the new planet is estimated at 8,500,000 miles in diameter.

The earth is about 12,000 miles from the sun, and the new planet is said to be 45 times that far away.

First to "discover" the planet was a French astronomer, who noticed a tiny spot on one plate.

"It should not have been there if there were only eight planets," said the young man, and reported his finding.

CAME FROM SUN
Among those who have explained the importance of the discovery is Prof. Archibald Henderson of the University of North Carolina. The internationally known commentator on astronomical matters said:

"Further data regarding its size and distance from the sun may confirm the tidal theory that major planets have all formed of filaments drawn from the sun at a very early period by passing stars."

"To confirm this theory, the new planet should conform to the present gradation in size and distances away from the sun of outer planets, the largest occurring near the center of diameter where the greatest amount of matter is."

"Further light may also be thrown on the provocative problem of the possibility of life on the new planet naturally suggested by the discovery. But soon deep studies of Lowell regarding Mars and its canals."

RESCUES NURSE AND PATIENT IN CHARLES

Waterlown Man Saves Girl and Charge in Plunge Into Ice Stream

A double rescue from the icy Charles river in Waltham was made today by a young man who jumped in the river to save a drowning nurse who had leaped in after a 5-year-old child.

Mrs. Katherine Whitney of Waban park, Newton, patient at the McLean hospital in Waverley, broke away from Miss Marion E. Derry of the hospital staff and plunged into the water. The nurse immediately followed, although she could not swim.

LEAPS INTO RIVER
The couple had been walking along Moody st. on their way to a hair dressing establishment. As they reached the bridge the woman suddenly dashed into the water and began swimming toward the other side.

The nurse began to flounder and call for help, after she saw that her patient apparently would not drown.

Earle Bagwell, 21, of Highland ave., Waterlown, crossing the bridge a moment later, saw the nurse sinking. He kicked off his shoes and swam to the rescue.

He reached the girl and brought her to shore. He then swam after the other woman, who was about halfway across.

After a struggle, Bagwell subdued the nurse and brought her ashore. A few moments later, while arranging for automobile transportation, Bagwell related his experience.

CALLS HUB FOLK SAILS TO PLAN MOST UNHAPPY COTTON IMPORT

The school and re-echoed cry of "make good" has made Americans the most unhappy persons in the world, John Cowper Powys, English novelist, declared at the Ford Hall Forum. He said Bostonians are the most unhappy persons in America.

"Americans are unhappy," he declared, "because they have before them the wrong purpose of life—to make good. Wherever you go in America you hear the cry echoed and re-echoed 'Make Good.' It is hurled into the world with its brother stupid, tricky, invidious label 'Service,' by Romanians and Elks, Monks and Lamas and scores of similar organizations."

Powys, claimed that the Englishman, the Chinaman, and the African Negro alone have the real purpose in life, "happiness in the flux, the ecstatic moment, the life that comes from the simple, primitive things, and contemplation, not action."

He was accompanied by Mrs. Welsh and is going to London to arrange for the importation of certain grade of long fibre cotton not grown in this country. He plans to spend eight weeks abroad and on his return will stop over for a visit to Paris and Ireland. He is a member of the Clover Club of Boston and one of its directors.

Others well known in Boston who hailed on the Cedric were Mrs. Ruth E. Childers, sister of Mrs. Fiske Warren, Prof. S. Gardner of Cambridge University, England, and George Harris, manager of the Dublin office of the White Star Line.

BLAME JOBBERS AS 45 DRESS SHOPS DALK

Employers' Spokesman Says Union Terms Make Goods Too Costly to Sell

Having abandoned plans for a victory parade, members of the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union whose strike was settled Friday, returned quietly to work today.

They first assembled in the garment manufacturing district, and then proceeded to headquarters at 25 Lagrange st., where working cards were distributed.

Philip Kramer, secretary of the union, said that 75 out of 115 shops had signed the agreement, and that the others will be picked up by the end of the week.

Members of the "Left Wing" or Communist branch, were not present on picket duty. It is the first day they have been absent since the strike.

Another conference with jobbers has been called for today in the office of Mayor Curtis in hope of making the settlement easier.

The attitude of the jobbers is held to be the chief stumbling block to settlement of the dress goods difficulties. Bernard D. Rose, goods spokesman for the dress manufacturers, declared that the jobbers are refusing to handle Rose commodities at the prices which the union demands entail.

Goods are being bought by the jobbers in New York and Boston, and are being sold here as Rose-made articles. Rose, however, declared. He said that any agreement with the union was still in the future. Such a contract under existing conditions, he said, is a "mere scrap of paper."

Mayor, to whom credit for ending the strike is given, will extend his meditation to the jobbers and urge them to cooperate.

Cambridge and Arlington Apparatus Is Called to $10,000 Blaze

Two women were assisted to safety when a two-alarm fire of undetermined origin swept through the Medina block, in Davis sq., West Somerville, today.

Apparatus from Cambridge and Arlington responded to the second alarm, the blaze being extinguished with a loss estimated by Chief Cribbe of Somerville at $10,000.

Traffic in the busy square was tied up for some time, Elm st. today cars being recorded.

The three-story block is numbered 233 Elm st., and contains four apartments on the second and third floors, only three of them occupied. On the second floor, Mrs. Medina Souza was asleep in the apartment of her sister, Mrs. Souza, and was the only occupant at the time.

The alarm was given by Capt. Frank J. Bennett of Ladder 4, who was off duty in Davis sq. and who saw flames breaking through a skylight.

Firemen Sherry and Fred Burns, employed in Clinton's Market across the street, also saw the flames and rushed across the street. They aroused Miss Souza and told her to get out.

Perry L. Minkens, a taxi driver, also ran into the building and informed Mrs. Souza of the fire. She was afraid. She warned her husband, Paul, who was in the basement, and was escorted to safety by Minkens. The two women birds lost their lives in the fire.

On the arrival of the fire apparatus, Chief Young ordered a second alarm, calling Cambridge and Arlington.

The blaze started in a storeroom on the third floor of the building and worked up through the roof. Two stores on the street floor, Sander's Art Shop, 233 Elm st., and Levitt's Shoe Shop, 237 Elm st., suffered water damage.

Soldiers Field Road New Highway Menace: Penalties Fewer

Included in the list of 13 minor fatalities for the week is one on Soldiers Field rd., Brighton, on which have occurred 20 serious accidents since last November.

The report of Capt. George A. Parker, registrar of motor vehicles, shows that Boston's municipal area contributed four of the 13 deaths three more than in the previous period and four more than in the corresponding period last year.

These were 54 convictions for operating while under the influence of intoxicating liquors, 13 less than in the preceding period. Only seven were committed to jail.

Of the 13 fatalities, five were occupants of cars and of these three were operators.

One was killed in a collision at Soldiers Field rd. and another, another was driving recklessly on the Newburyport Turnpike and a third is believed to have fallen asleep at the wheel while driving in his home early in the month.
